KEYNOTES

I love to inspire and entertain audiences of all kinds! I've been told I'm dynamic, funny and that my messages really resonate. My personal story and my careers in academia and business have yielded plenty of insights, opinions and stories I can customize for your needs. And since I work on lots of big events, I know how to tailor my talk to fit into the overall experience you're creating for your group.

My communications talks include:

- The stories we tell ourselves, and how to get them to work for you
- Why can't we all just get along? Oh wait—we can!
- The high cost of silence: how to raise your voice and transform the workplace
- Women and men and words at work
- Connecting the dots: how to align your communications with your personal or company brand
- The secrets behind the best TEDx talks
- Speaking as a woman: minds, bodies, and words
- Bodies speak louder than words: what does yours say?

Some of my other talks:

- How to re-create yourself and your career
- What academics can do in the “real world”
- How to find joy, and why it matters
- How to think like—and become—a creative
- The fine art of being yourself
